Your parents have already agreed that we can talk to you about being in the study. If you want to be in this study, you will be asked to sign this form.

Why is this study being done?

We are inviting you to take part in a research study because we are trying to learn more about how to youth, like you, learn skills to have healthy relationships. We want the program to help parents and youth communicate and connect better. The reason we are doing this study is to have kids test part of the digital program and see how well the program helps kids your age have good relationships, and help you speak to your parent about preventing dating violence. This program will also aim to help other adults, such as teachers and counselors, help other kids your age have healthy relationships. The overall outcome we want is to promote healthy relationships and prevent youth dating violence.

What will happen if you join the study?

If you agree to be in this study, the following things will happen:

- Participate in three (3) surveys that would take about 25-30 minutes to complete each
  - Complete a survey before the first lesson to answer some questions about themselves and what they know and think about healthy relationships
  - Complete a survey at the end of the program to answer some questions again about what they know and think about healthy relationships
  - Complete a final survey about 9-12 months after the completion of the program about what they know and think about healthy relationships
- Participate in thirteen (13) computer-based modules that last about 25 minutes each
  - Complete questions during the modules
- Complete two (2) questions at the beginning and end of each module about how important and how well they know topics around healthy relationships

You will complete all of the lessons and surveys in school.

How long will this take?

You total time will be about 8 hours over the course of the program. You will be in this study 8 months.

What are the benefits to taking part in this study?

Taking part in this study may or may not help you. Information from this study might help researchers to come up with better prevention programs to help youth have healthy relationships.

There is always the risk of possible loss of private information. Remember you would not have to take part in any lesson activity that you do not want to.

Can you stop being in this study?

Your parent(s) or legal guardian must give permission for you to take part in this study, but you can choose if you want to be in this study or not. You do not have to be in the study. No one will be mad at you if you do not want to do this. If you do not want to be in this study, just tell someone. You do not have to tell them a reason. If you decide to be in the study, you can stop at any time.
