Student Script (ages 6-8 years)

My name is _____. I work at Vanderbilt University. This year, I'm doing some things at your school, like giving math and reading tests to children. I'd like you to work on this project this year.

If you agree to work on this project, you'll take some math and reading tests this school year. The person who gives these tests is someone who knows a lot about children like you. The tests will ask you to write or say answers to math problems and answer questions about stories you read. The tests take about 1 hour. This is about the same amount of time it takes for lunch and recess. You won't miss lunch or recess though, because the tests won't be given during lunch or recess.

Working on this project should not cause any problems for you. Only a few people, including your teacher and possibly your parent, will see how you did on the tests. Your scores will not be part of your grade for school.

If you decide not to work on this project, nothing bad will happen.

If you decide to work on this project, you can stop at any time.

Do you understand what I said?

Do you agree to work on this project?

IF YES: Remember, if at any time you change your mind, just let me or your teacher know.
