

Local dishes versus 'ready-to-use therapeutic foods' in the management of severe acute malnutrition during the rehabilitation phase: a randomized, single-blind study at the regional hospital annex of Mokolo (Cameroon)

ID: 062/24L/MSP/DRSP-EN/HRA-MOK

NCT ID (In process)

22/01/2024

INFORMED CONSENT FORM

I, the undersigned....., declare to accept, freely, and in an informed manner to participate as a subject in the study
entitled: EFFECTIVENESS OF ENHANCED AWARENESS ON THE USE OF LOCAL DISHES AMONG SEVERELY ACUTE MALNOURISHED INDIVIDUALS IN REHABILITATION AT THE REGIONAL HOSPITAL ANNEX OF MOKOLO.

Under the direction of: Prof. SAP SUZANNE, Dr. KAMO HELENE, and Dr. FADIMATOU
ALTINE

Promoter: University of Garoua (Faculty of Medicine and Biomedical Sciences of Garoua)

Principal Investigator: SEPTCHE DAVY GILLES, 7th-year student

Commitment of the principal investigator: as the principal investigator, he commits to conducting this research according to ethical and deontological provisions, to protect the physical, psychological, and social integrity of individuals, and to ensure the confidentiality of the information collected. He also commits to providing participants with all the support to mitigate any negative effects that may arise from participation in this research.

Participant's freedom: consent to continue the research can be withdrawn at any time without giving a reason and without incurring any liability or consequence. Responses to questions are optional, and failure to respond will have no consequences for the subject.

Participant information: the participant has the opportunity to obtain additional information regarding this study from the principal investigator, within the limits of the constraints of the research plan.

Confidentiality of information: all information concerning participants will be kept anonymous and confidential. The computer processing is not nominative; thus, it does not fall under the data protection law (the right of access and rectification is not applicable). The transmission of information concerning the participant for expertise or scientific publication will also be anonymous.

Deontology and ethics: the promoter and the investigator commit to absolutely preserving confidentiality and professional secrecy for all information concerning the participant.

Done at ... .. on ... ..

In 2 copies

The participant.

The principal investigator.